"A MESSAGE FROM MARS" is a comedy story, a great play teeming with human conditions and problems. Its theme is the revolution of a selfish man. There are fifteen different characters. The marvel of the artist's work is that these fifteen characters come and go with no apparent effort. One comment is that "Mars" is a golden message presented by a superb artist.

Why Next Summer Will be a Very Bad One For Babies

There will be more typhoid, more cholera infantum, more dysentery and more milk born maladies of infancy this year than has been known for fifteen years, or since the year of the Spanish-American War.

This prophecy is based upon the fact that there will be a billion times as many flies this Spring as there were in July and August of the last fourteen years. That every fly is the harbinger of disease and possible death is too well known to be argued about in this article, and it naturally follows that such an increase of the disease and death-bringing flies means an increase of the diseases of infancy, for it is the little ones that suffer most from the plague of the germ-carrying house fly.

The whole secret of the increase in the number of flies this year is really no secret at all, it is the "open winter." When a winter is unusually severe, or even normally severe, the flies cannot retain their hold on life so readily. The cold kills them, and while a great many flies always manage to tuck themselves away in some place about every home where the temperature never reaches the freezing point, during an exceedingly warm winter, the number of flies that manage to live through is greatly increased.

For this reason the scientists, having given thought to our extremely mild winter this season, already know that typhoid, cholera and other pestilences will be worse than usual during 1913.

So prolific are these flies that the result is really appalling, especially in view of great dangers with which their deadly microbes surround every household.

The little fly that first deposited eggs the first of April will have been responsible for descendants by the first of next September that will amount to ten raised to the thirteenth power, or, more than one hundred thousand million! If one fly can do this, what can a houseful of flies do? And if there are perhaps fifty flies that live through the winter in your house when the winter is normal, there are doubtless 100 of 300 flies alive in your house throughout an extremely warm winter!

With these on the inside so increased by warm winter and those that get in from the outside in the spring, also increased from the same reason, it is only natural that the scientists should declare that the coming Summer will be an exceedingly bad one for babies.

Flies will go instantly to milk and sugar. Their feet and bodies are covered with terrible germs. They leave these germs on the rubber nipple of baby's milk bottle and on scores of things that finally reach the baby. Hence, it means a deadly Summer for babies.

Flies allowed to feed on milk or sugar water in which germs are placed will be found to deposit those microbes ten times every hour, besides placing them in and on everything on which they alight. One fly will have a progeny of 12,000,000, or nearly half a ton in weight.

The remedy is to begin now and fight the flies. Search your house as though you were looking for a two-carat diamond you know were there, hunt up every fly in every cranny and smother and kill it. Each fly killed now means 12,000,000 less flies by June 1. And when the warm

NEWSPAPER LAW IS HELD UP

United States Supreme Court Temporarily Enjoins Enforcement Of Publicity Act

The Supreme court the other day granted a restraining order to prevent Postmaster General Burleson from enforcing the newspaper publicity law while the court has under consideration the question of its constitutionality.

The injunction was granted on request made by Robert C. Morris, attorney for the New York Journal of Commerce, which has attacked the validity of the act.

Postmaster General Burleson had notified him that newspapers which had not filed statements required by the law would be penalized.

Absent-Minded Statesman

Lord Lawrence, who was once governor general of India, was so absent minded in matters of external display that when the Koh-i-noor diamond, now among the crown jewels, came into his hands for transmission to Queen Victoria after the annexation of the Punjab in 1849, he kept it for six weeks in his waistcoat pocket, having forgotten all about it and only discovered it there by accident.

For earache, toothache, pain, burns, scalds, sore throat, try Dr. Thomas' Eucalyptic Oil, a splendid remedy for emergencies.

weather comes keep up the fight with serenes and traps and poisons, and above all with searching out the breeding places and destroying them.

These breeding places are in out houses, barabaz cans, open gutters, decaying fruits and vegetables, exposed market edibles, mosses, ferns, green groceries, butcher shops, thatched shingles and all exposed liquids and foods. Let every man woman and child begin the great fight and keep it up. Eternal welfare on the fly is the only way for freedom from dread disease. Kill a fly to-day and say "There's twelve million flies less!" And do not stop until you are certain every fly in your house has been killed.

Ed L. Young

Elsewhere in this issue The Bee announces Ed L. Young's candidacy for County Attorney of Hopkins County, subject to the action of the democratic primary to be held next August.

Really Mr. Young needs no introduction to the people of Hopkins county or commendation from the Bee, because his whole life has been spent in Hopkins County and his record as the servant of the people in the last legislature has made him a familiar figure in the minds of the people, but while this is true it affords the Bee sincere pleasure to speak good words for him.

As a representative of Hopkins county in the legislature Mr. Young faithfully redeemed every pledge he made to the voters during his campaign and early in the session took high rank as one of the leaders at that body. His conduct was straightforward, able and popular and his people at home were much pleased with the splendid record he made as their Representative and unquestionably he made many staunch friends among our people who had been inclined to be against him previously.

Mr. Young is a lawyer of excellent attainments. He is sober, industrious, ambitious. He is making "good," and it is always a pleasure for The Bee to commend a young man who is thus working his way up in the world. That he is well qualified to discharge the duties of the office of county attorney and that he will look carefully after the interests of the tax-payers in all matters pertaining to his duties none who knows him will doubt.

Ed Young is a coming man in Hopkins county and he will have an enthusiastic following in his race for county attorney. He is worthy and well qualified and the people will make no mistake in confiding the duties of this position to him.

Satisfaction in Life.

I would have nobody to control me; I would be absolute; and who but I? Now, he that is absolute can do what he likes; he that can do what he likes can take his pleasure; he that can take his pleasure can be content; and he that can be content has no more to desire.
